To: All Students and Faculty Members,

Subject: Seminar on the New Education Policy (NEP)

Dear Students and Faculty Members,

We are delighted to inform you about an upcoming session dedicated to exploring the intricacies of the New Education Policy (NEP). This session aims to provide an in-depth understanding of the key features, objectives, and implications of the NEP, which is poised to revolutionize the educational landscape of our nation.

Details of the Session:

Date: 31st July 2023

Time: 11:00am

Venue: seminar Hall

During the session, we will delve into various aspects of the NEP, including its vision for holistic development, emphasis on skill-based learning, integration of technology, and measures to promote inclusivity and equity in education. The session will also facilitate discussions on the implementation strategies and opportunities for stakeholders to contribute to the success of the NEP.

This session is an excellent opportunity for all of us to gain valuable insights into one of the most significant reforms in the education sector and to engage in meaningful dialogue about its implications for our academic community and beyond.

We encourage all students and faculty members to attend the session and actively participate in the discussions to enrich our understanding of the NEP and its implications for the future of education in our country.

Thank you for your attention, and we look forward to your enthusiastic participation.

REPORT OF WORKSHOP ON 'NAAC' DOCUMENTATION PROCESS

On 05/02/2024, a workshop on 'NAAC' Documentation Process was conducted at the Seminar Hall for the faculty members of Balaji Law College. The workshop aimed to provide faculty members with comprehensive guidance on structuring and organizing documents in accordance with the guidelines outlined by the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC).

The workshop commenced at 02:00 p.m. with an introduction of the Guest Speaker Dr. Madhavi More by Dr. Tejaswi Avhad Ma'am and welcomed her. The workshop commenced with an overview of NAAC's accreditation process, followed by understanding NAAC criteria and standards. Dr. Madhavi More emphasized the significance of proper documentation in showcasing institutional quality. Practical strategies for structuring document content were provided, guiding participants on logical organization, coherent data presentation, and alignment with NAAC criteria. Effective techniques for data presentation criteria-wise, including visualization through tables, graphs, charts, PowerPoint presentations and case studies, were introduced to enhance clarity and accessibility for reviewers. She also shared several strategies for effective peer review and addressed common challenges and pitfalls that may come up.

The workshop saw enthusiastic participation from faculty members, who actively engaged in discussions, shared insights, and raised queries regarding document organization and accreditation. As a result, participants gained a deeper understanding of NAAC documentation requirements and acquired practical skills for effective document organization. They expressed confidence in their ability to align documentation with NAAC standards, thus contributing to the institution's accreditation efforts. Overall, the workshop served as a valuable platform for faculty

REPORT ON THREE-DAY WORKSHOP ON NAAC PEER TEAM VISIT GUIDANCE

A three-day workshop on NAAC (National Assessment and Accreditation Council) Peer Team Visit Guidance was organized in Balaji Law College from 14-16 February 2024 to provide comprehensive training and guidance to educational institutions preparing for accreditation assessments. The workshop aimed to enhance understanding, preparedness, and effectiveness in handling the NAAC peer team visits, which are crucial for institutions seeking accreditation. The workshop was conducted under the guidance of esteemed guest speaker, Dr. G.Y. Shitole Sir, who brought invaluable expertise and experience in the field of accreditation.

Day 1: Teaching Staff Workshop

The workshop commenced with an introduction to the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) and the significance of peer team visits in evaluating institutional quality and performance. The focus of the day was to familiarize teaching staff with the NAAC criteria related to teaching-learning processes and evaluation methods.

Sessions and Activities:

Overview of NAAC Criteria: The first session provided an overview of the seven NAAC criteria, with a specific focus on criteria relating to Curricular Aspects and Teaching-Learning and Evaluation. Examples and case studies were presented to illustrate effective teaching practices and assessment methods.

Workshop on Teaching Pedagogies: Teaching staff participated in workshops focusing on innovative teaching pedagogies and methodologies aligned with NAAC standards. Interactive sessions encouraged brainstorming and sharing of best practices in curriculum design, classroom instruction, and student engagement strategies.

Discussion and Reflection: The day concluded with a group discussion and reflection session, where teaching staff shared insights gained from the workshop and discussed strategies for enhancing teaching quality and effectiveness in their respective departments.

Day 2: Library Staff Workshop

The second day of the workshop focused on the role of library and information services in supporting teaching, learning, and research activities within the institution. Library staff were introduced to the NAAC criteria related to infrastructure and learning resources, with a particular emphasis on criterion relating to Library and Information Resources.

In-charge

In-Charge Principal

Sessions and Activities:

Library Resource Management: Sessions covered topics such as collection development, digital resources management, and user services in libraries. Best practices in library resource management were discussed, emphasizing the importance of meeting the diverse information needs of users.

Technology Integration in Libraries: Library staff explored ways to leverage technology to enhance library services and resources. Case studies demonstrated the implementation of digital libraries, online cataloging systems, and e-resources subscriptions to improve access and usability.

Library Assessment and Quality Assurance: Participants learned about methods for assessing library effectiveness and user satisfaction, aligning with NAAC requirements for continuous quality improvement. Workshops on conducting user surveys, data analysis, and benchmarking facilitated skill development in library assessment.

Day 3: Administrative Staff Workshop

The final day of the workshop focused on the administrative aspects of accreditation and peer team visits. Administrative staff members were briefed on their roles and responsibilities during the accreditation process, including data management, documentation, and stakeholder engagement.

Sessions and Activities:

Institutional Data Management: Sessions provided guidance on collecting, organizing, and presenting data required for accreditation. Administrative staff learned about data collection protocols, record-keeping practices, and data analysis techniques to ensure compliance with NAAC standards.

Documentation and Evidence: Workshops focused on compiling evidence and documentation to support claims made in the Self-Study Report (SSR). Administrative staff were trained in document management systems, file organization, and data validation procedures to facilitate the accreditation process.

Stakeholder Engagement Strategies: Participants explored strategies for involving faculty, staff, students, alumni, and other stakeholders in the accreditation process. Case studies highlighted successful stakeholder engagement initiatives and effective communication strategies for promoting transparency and accountability.

Peer Team Visit Protocol: The workshop concluded with a session on the peer team visit protocol, outlining the roles, responsibilities, and expectations of administrative staff members during the accreditation visit. Participants gained insights into coordinating logistics, facilitating meetings, and responding to peer team queries effectively.

Conclusion:

The three-day workshop provided comprehensive guidance to teaching, library, and administrative staff members on preparing for NAAC peer team visits. Through interactive

REPORT ON ORIENTATION CUM TRAINING WORKSHOP ON EASTERN BOOK COMPANY LEGAL DATABASE

On 20th February 2024, the Library Department of Balaji Law College organized a workshop on orientation cum training session of the Eastern Book Company (EBC) Legal Database. The workshop aimed to equip students and faculty members with the necessary skills to effectively utilize this legal database for academic and research purposes. The resource person for the workshop was Mr. Ashish Pandey Sir from the EBC.

The workshop began by Mr. Ashish Pandey Sir offering a detailed overview of the database's features. Sir elaborated on its extensive collection of legal resources, which typically includes case law books, bare acts, legal journals, E-magazines and commentaries and showcased the user-friendly interface and navigation tools, demonstrating how users can efficiently browse, search, and retrieve relevant legal information.

Following the overview, participants were guided through various search techniques and strategies to effectively utilize the database. This segment involved demonstrations of advanced search functionalities available within the database to refine search results. The EBC database is meticulously designed with a neat and efficient table of contents, ensuring users can effortlessly navigate through its contents. Its intuitive interface offers an option to make notes, facilitating users in jotting down important points or insights for future reference. Additionally, the database provides a seamless printing option, enabling users to generate hard copies of relevant information as needed. With a focus on user experience, the EBC database prioritizes readability, presenting information in a clear and accessible format that ensures ease of comprehension for all users.

REPORT ON WORKSHOP ON COURSE/PROGRAMME OUTCOMES

ATTAINMENT

On 22nd February 2024, Balaji Law College organized a Seminar for its faculty on Course/Programme Outcome Attainment. The Seminar aimed to equip faculty members with strategies and tools to enhance the attainment of course/programme outcomes. Dr. Nilesh Kharche Sir was the resource person for this Seminar.

The session began with Dr. Nilesh Kharche Sir giving the participants an overview of what course/programme outcomes are and why they are essential in educational settings. Participants engaged in discussions to understand the significance of clearly defined outcomes in guiding teaching and learning processes.

Sir emphasized the importance of measuring outcomes to ensure that educational objectives are met effectively. The session explored how outcomes attainment enhances the quality of education and supports institutional accreditation processes.

Practical sessions were conducted to guide faculty members in aligning course outcomes with programme outcomes. Participants learned about how to create learning objectives that are measurable and aligned with desired outcomes.

Various assessment techniques were discussed, including formative and summative assessment methods. Participants explored ways to design assessments that effectively measure students' mastery of course/programme outcomes while providing meaningful feedback.

The Seminar concluded with an overview of resources and support services available to faculty members for enhancing outcomes attainment.

REPORT ON WORKSHOP ON FIRE EXTINGUISHER DEMO

On 01/03/2024, Balaji College of Law organized a one-day workshop on "Fire Extinguisher Demonstration". The workshop aimed to impart knowledge and practical skills regarding fire safety and the proper usage of fire extinguishers. The workshop was held from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m. and included various activities to educate attendees on fire safety measures. The agenda for the workshop included lectures and hands-on demonstrations.

Mr. Shivam Devghade, a renowned fire safety expert, presided over the workshop. His expertise and guidance facilitated an enriching learning experience for all attendees. The workshop emphasized interactive learning methods to actively engage participants in the learning process.

During the workshop, participants were provided with comprehensive guidance on fire safety procedures and the correct utilization of fire extinguishers. The resource person explained the four essential steps to follow in case of a fire incident: identification, protection, fighting, and prevention. Additionally, he detailed the classification of fire incidents based on solid, liquid, and gaseous substances, highlighting the importance of understanding the nature of the fire for effective response. Furthermore, the types of fire extinguishers, categorized into Class A, Class B, and Class C, were thoroughly discussed to equip attendees with knowledge of which extinguisher to use in different fire scenarios. The session culminated in a demonstration on how to operate fire extinguishers, allowing participants to actively engage in practical exercises. This hands-on approach not only reinforced theoretical concepts but also empowered attendees with the necessary skills to confidently respond to fire emergencies. Such interactive sessions are vital in promoting a culture of safety and preparedness, ensuring a safer environment within the college campus and beyond.

The workshop saw enthusiastic participation from everyone. Through hands-on demonstrations and practical exercises, attendees gained valuable insights into fire prevention techniques and the correct protocols for handling fire emergencies. The workshop successfully achieved its objectives of enhancing participants' understanding of fire safety measures and equipping them with the necessary skills to respond effectively to fire incidents. Attendees left the workshop with increased confidence in their ability to handle fire emergencies and prevent accidental fire outbreaks in various settings.

The 'Fire Extinguisher Demonstration' workshop organized by Balaji Law College proved to be an informative and beneficial event. By fostering awareness and providing practical training on fire safety measures, the workshop contributed to creating a safer environment within the college campus. Such initiatives are crucial in promoting a culture of safety and preparedness in the face of potential fire hazards.

Report: Seminar On 'Nep 2020' Implementation

20th June 2024

Date: 19th June 2024

Overview:

The seminar on the implementation of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 commenced with an inaugural session featuring esteemed speakers Dr. Dimple Saini, Chairperson of the College Development Committee (CDC), and Dr. G. K. Shirude, Vice Chancellor of SBUP. Following the inaugural session, distinguished Professors delved into specific aspects of NEP 2020 implementation. Experts from academia exchanged insights on challenges and opportunities in realizing the policy's objectives. Throughout the session, the discussion gravitated around several pivotal themes. These included comprehensive curriculum reforms, advanced teacher training methodologies, seamless technological integration, initiatives promoting equity and inclusion in education, and robust mechanisms for ensuring and maintaining quality standard

Session-I:

Topic: NEP-2020: overview & Implementation issues,

Presenter: Prof. Parag Shah: IQAC Coordinator-Modern College, Pune

Professor Parag Shah, delivered an insightful session on the implementation of NEP-2020, focusing on its curriculum framework for undergraduate (UG) programs. He highlighted key aspects such as major/minor subject selection, open electives categorized into thematic baskets, and the integration of Indian Knowledge Systems (IKS).

The session began with an overview of NEP-2020, emphasizing its transformative agenda for the education sector. Professor Shah discussed implementation challenges and strategies, stressing the need for flexibility and multidisciplinary in UG curricula. He elaborated on the revamped approach to major and minor subject choices, enabling students to tailor their academic paths to personal interests and career goals

The session also explored open electives through thematic baskets, promoting cross-disciplinary learning and resource sharing. Professor Shah emphasized integrating Indian Knowledge Systems in major-specific and generic subjects, affirming NEP-2020's cultural preservation goals. Overall, it aimed to comprehensively reform curricula to foster holistic student development for varied global career path.

Session- II:

Topic: Skill Development and Curriculum Innovations

Presenter: Dr. Gauri Khopardekar, NEP Coordinator – Modern College, Pune

Dr. Gauri Khopardekar, led an engaging session focused on several key aspects of the National Education Policy (NEP) 2020. The session primarily addressed skill development through On-the-Job Training (OJT), Research Projects (RP), internships, and curriculum activities.

She also discussed the significance of integrating practical learning experiences like OJT and internships to bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and real-world application. She emphasized the role of Research Projects in fostering critical thinking and problem-solving skills among students.

The session also explored NEP 2020's reforms in assessment, evaluation, and examinations, aiming for a more holistic evaluation framework that goes beyond traditional exams. Dr. Khopardekar introduced the concept of an Academic Bank of Credit (ABC) and multiple entry-exit options, enabling students to accumulate credits over time and re-enter the education system seamlessly.

She emphasized vocational education as pivotal in NEP 2020, offering skill-oriented courses to boost employability. Her session underscored NEP 2020's strategies in skill development, assessment innovations, and vocational training, aiming to better equip students for success across various professions.

Session-III:

Topic: Outcome-Based Education and Curriculum Design

Presenter: Dr. Mansi Kurtkoti, HOD & IQAC Coordinator- Dr. D.Y. Patil College, Pimpri

Dr. Mansi Kurtkoti led an enlightening session on Outcome-Based Education (OBE) and its implementation strategies. The session focused on the importance of OBE in higher education and its practical application in curriculum design. She elaborated on the significance of mapping Course Outcomes (CO) to Program Outcomes (PO), ensuring alignment with educational objectives and industry requirements. This approach enables a structured curriculum that emphasizes desired learning outcomes and competencies.

The session also addressed effective teaching-learning processes under OBE, emphasizing student-centered approaches and active learning methodologies. Dr. Kurtkoti highlighted the role of continuous assessment and feedback loops in enhancing student engagement and achievement.

In charge Principa
Balaji Education College

Overall, the session provided valuable insights into OBE's role in modernizing curriculum frameworks, ensuring graduates are well-prepared with relevant skills and knowledge to meet evolving societal and professional demands.

Conclusion:

Collectively, these sessions underscored NEP-2020's ambition to revitalize India's education landscape by emphasizing flexibility, skill development, and cultural integration. They provided a roadmap for educators and policymakers to implement reforms that not only meet academic standards but also prepare students for dynamic professional challenges in a globalized world. The seminar concluded with a resounding call to action for collaborative efforts in realizing NEP-2020's vision of inclusive and holistic education for all.

Acknowledgment

We extend our heartfelt gratitude to Dr. Dimple Saini, Chairperson of the Central Drafting Committee (CDC), and Dr. G. K. Shirude, Vice Chancellor of SBUP, Prof. Parag Shah, Dr. Gauri Khopardekar, Dr. Mansi Kurtkoti for their invaluable contributions to the seminar series. Special thanks to all attendees for their active participation and engagement, which made the series a resounding success.

Future Endeavours:

As we conclude this series we look forward to organizing more such intellectually stimulating events in the future, fostering continued dialogue and scholarly exchange on pressing issues and new advancements shaping our society.
